

IAS Public Policy Series: Symposium on Economic Governance in China and the Developing World

Date : 31 May 2013 - 1 Jun 2013

Venue : HKUST

Overview

The goal of this Symposium is to provide a forum for in-depth discussion among leading thinkers on governance and economic development, and leading researchers on China's economic governance in order to better understand how different aspects of China's economic governance system have contributed to China's rapid growth and other economic and social consequences such as urbanization and social conflicts, and to consider lessons, if any, for other developing countries.
